Moving towards a more Walkable Houston!

Learn more about the Walkable Places and Transit Oriented Development Ordinances

At a Community Meeting on
Thursday, October 24, 2019 6:00—7:30pm
Trinity Episcopal Church
1015 Holman St, Houston, TX 77004

Houston is moving towards a more walkable city. To encourage more walkable, pedestrian-friendly development along certain streets, a committee of experts and neighborhood leaders recommends creating unique development rules that encourage safe, pedestrian activity. These rules address things like building setbacks, sidewalk widths, and the location of parking spaces.

Your property is located within the proposed Midtown Walkable Place pilot area.
